

The 1947 Clairtonian

苴

Caitanion

All of the many memories that are to be treasured by us have been included in the 1947 Clairtonian for the enjoymnet of all. It is the sincere wish of the staff that among the most endeared of all memories will be the Spirit of Clairton.

What is the Spirit of Clairton? It is the band, the Christmas candlelight service, the choruses. It is the test tubes, the burners, a good teacher, and the class bell. It is the stadium, Gulch Way, and our dear old school. It is the swing band, an assembly skit, and a basketball trip. It is winning, losing and still winning. It is a full front hall, a cho-cho, and thou. It is a newsy out front selling football extras. It is a library with stacks of books and every seat taken. It is the big night of the Prom after weeks of preparation. It is football, basketball, volleyball, swimming, track, and baseball. It is all of these and many more, no one counting for more or less than another. This is the Spirit of our school. This is what we want you to remember.

Your School

"We hail thee Clairton High School."

"Let praises ever ring."

"With lovalty unfailing, and Love that shall not die."

"To thee dear Alma Mater Undying love we bring."

Our Mill

The Carnegie-Illinois Steel Works of which Mr. Hobart Seyler is the general superintendent is a monument to engineering achievement. It has 5 blast furnaces, 12 open hearth furnaces, blooming mill, and finishing mill. The chief products of the finishing mills are angles, bars, and miscellaneous small shapes.

Clairton has the largest by-product coke oven plant in the world. It is located on the west bank of the Monongahela river entirely within our city limits about fifty miles from the coal fields that supply this mammoth enterprise. The works consist of 22 batteries of ovens or a total of 1482 ovens, together with all the necessary equipment for the extraction and recovery of the valuable by-products from the carbonization of coal.

Superintendent of Schools

MR. H. D. TEAL

Superintendent of Schools, Mr. H. D. Teal is known to all students as a hard worker, genuinely interested in the students welfare. Mr. Teal has been with Clairton Public Schools for 17 years. Through this time Mr. Teal has been the guiding hand in 17 years of progress—in growth of our schools, in changes in education, and broader fields of learning.

Mr. Teal holds on A. B. degree from Defiance College and a M. A. degree from Ohio State University.

Even though the position of Superintendent is a busy one and requiring the majority of his time, Mr. Teal is very active in the community. He represents Clairton Schools on the Rotary Club. He is an excellent bowler as attested by his averages compiled in the teacher's league. In the summer, Mr. Teal spends much of his time playing golf.

Learning the student's needs and problems and meeting them is one task of Mr. Teal. We can say that he has more ably met them from our comfortable stay at C H $.

DR. EVERT F. STABLER

As the commencement for our class draws near, begin to appreciate more than ever before how much we are indebted to our principal and advisor, Dr. Evert F. Stabler, whose high ideals and sterling character have been an inspiration and a guide to us throughout our three years of high school life. His untiring interest, sympathy, and wisdom have helped to prepare us for the difficult problems we must face in the future. Our schools' standard of efficiency is due almost entirely to his unceasing toil and patient perseverance. His deep personal interest in us as students has won our respect and love.

Dr. Stabler is well qualified for his position as the head of our Senior High School. He has a Litt. B. from Grave City College and an Ed. M. and a Ph. D. from the University of Pittsburgh. Be became principal of our high school in 1938.

"The reason firm, the temperate will, Endurance, foresight, strength, and skill."

Vocational Department

In the automobile shop we work on cars—learn their mechanism and more particularly how to repair them. The machine shop teaches the making and care of tools. In the electric shop motor control is studied.

Shop work offers a clear and direct way of learning. We work and learn together. It offers a practical and thorough education for our industrial age. Students who are not classical minded very often find their work in our shops.

The privilege of being members of our Homemaking classes is limited to the girls in our our and senior classes. The girls in these classes study foods proper diets, clothing, home management family health child care home decorations and habbies. These classes are headed by a fine staff of teachers who are well qualified for their work. When our girls graduate from the homemaking department, they are well prepared to be our mothers and housewives of tomorrow.

It is really Solid!

The study of plants and animals

Our science and mathematic departments serve to develop the student's interests and knowledge for use in the world of today. These classes form a foundation upon which a more advanced education can be constructed. Many of our graduates, trained in science and mathematics, have found their occupations in Clairton. The student of today is taught world cooperation through science, but science alone is not sufficient, he must know the methods and bases upon which scientific problems are solved.

The English and Social Studies courses play an important part in our education. With emphasis put on vocabulary building, grammar, and creative writing, the English course prepares the student for a more abundant life as he learns how to express himself. Many of our students look forward to college, writing and teaching.

Social Studies outline the history of our government explain the rights and privileges of each citizen and teach us the American way of living in peace with our neighbors.

Commercial and Languages

When one realizes that you can board a plane in London and sixteen or seventeen hours later step off in New York, we must admit that the world is growing smaller. We no longer have far distant foreign neighbors. Many folk, who speak a language strange to us, do daily business with us—thus the need for studying languages other than our own, and learning how to do business in a successful way. Our language and commercial departments are meeting the needs of the youth to live in this new world

Art in English. Helping hand

Whether your life-long ambition is to become a Lauritz Melchoir, a Koussevitsky, or a Salvador Dali, you'll find a good beginning at CHS.

A student can gain much musical knowledge under the masterful guidance of Mr. Rotili, our band and orchestra leader. Miss Botdorf's direction provides a foundation on which much can be built if one is interested in the vocal and choral fields of music. Where art is concerned, what finer experience could a student find than the fundamentals carefully taught by Miss Pitcairn?

CHS does offer excellent fine-arts backgrounds, if they are used advantageously.

Physical Ed Department Our physical educational classes are the recreational periods of the day. During these classes, books are put aside and everyone has fun for an hour. Proof of this fact may be gained, not any time by walking by a Gymic assion the swimming pool and listening to the laughter. Nevertheless fun is the secondary motive for the classes—the real purpose is to keep the students physically fit. Our well equipped department cares for our students physical needs by requiring each student to carry one period each week of Gym, swimming, and health.

This is your cafeteria. Here you are your lunch daily. Here, you have jostled others, and have been jostled. You have chatted with your friends, and generally wasted the better part of two full weeks. Here too, are your cafeteria attendants, doing their best to make you a healthy red-blooded citizen. In this seemingly insignificant part of your daily routine are many memories—both funny and sad. In these snapshots are your friends, your faculty, your helpful attendants, your memories, and you. Look long and drink deep.

Mrs. Bracken and Mrs. DeMaio, secretaries to Mr. Teal.

Miss Paros, the janitors, Miss Craven, and Mr. Stilley.

The Senior Class

One day in September of 1935, we, the Senior Class started on the road to education. Throughout our grade school years we looked ahead from year to year, but about the sixth or seventh grades our main objective turned to high school and even to the day we would become seniors. We will never forget our first parties and all the little memories that endear the lower grades to us.

At last that long-awaited day arrived, when the bewildered Freshmen of Clairton and Walnut Junior High Schools entered the halls of Senior High School as Sophomores. Proudly we donned the air of the "Wise Fools" only to have our spirits dampened by the fact that we were to become the butt of jokes by our upper classmen. This proved memorable with a fairly good year in sports, something new came along in the form of an Operetta, also those first Senior High parties will long live in our memories and Wilma Dickson, Treasurer. The Junior Council collaborated with the Senior and Student Councils to make the dances and parties a success. The Junior Prom became the big event, with everyone working hard selling Christmas Cards, decorating, and making ready for the "Dream Ball". During the year we made a hit with our class play, "Do You Believe in Luck", a comedy in one act. For the first time we had a baseball team at CHS. It was nice seeing a lot of familiar faces around again with the return of a lot of our teachers and a few vets.

As a Junior class we became organized, with Bill Kramer as our President, Gretchen Phillips, Vice-President, Elsie Warhol, Secretary

Finally that day arrived . . . we were Seniors, those privileged people who get to sit front and center at assemblies. Our class leaders were Dominic Quattro, President, Bob McCarmley, Vice-President, Elsie Warhol, Secretary and Gail Wesley, Treasurer. We had a lot to look forward to. There was Baccalaureate Service. Class Night, the Class Play, and last but not least . . . Commencement. When we look back it doesn't seem possible that twelve happy years could have slipped by so rapidly in dear old Clairton.

THAT FIRST DAY WAS SURE A "DOOZY" . WHEN WE GOT HOME, WE ALL WERE "WOOZY"

Junior Class

The Junior Class this year is proud of its accomplishments. May we introduce President Thomas Madden, Vice-President William Boyd, Secretary Margaret Buchina, and Treasurer, Ann Ferrero. They have worked hard to carry out the wishes of their classmates.

After much discussion, the Spring Prom was held in the high school auditorium Friday, May sixteenth. What a wonderful time everyone had! The Senior and Student Councils helped the Junior Council to make this possible.

A new feature has been added to our school productions this year. A group of juniors worked hard to compose the "Handbook" which will be distributed to every student in the senior high the beginning of next term. It will be especially helpful to newcomers, township students, and those from Wilson. All the rules and regulations, usually very difficult to learn, will be simplified and available. Every student will be able to keep his handbook and treasure it as his own souvenir of Clairton High School. Let us hope it will be a great success. We shall have a good handbook this year. Let's have a better—more perfect next year.

Three cheers should be given to the Junior Dramatic Club who did such a wonderful job in keeping the audience entertained with the comic play they presented in March. They really proved that amateur actors and actresses can give a magnificent performance.

Remember those Junior students who were featured on the "High School Speaks" program—broadcast from station WEDO McKeesport? An orchid to them! Keep up that fine work and may we hear from an even greater number next term.

When we are passing out our class orchids, we must not forget our faculty sponsor, Miss Jean Davis. Her wise counselling and sweet disposition has been an inspiration to each member of our class.

Junior Class of 1948 look well to your laurels. We challenge you to greater achievements than the Class of '47.

Activities

Senior Plays

The challenge brings results in Galahad Jones Hilda in distress.

Trouble—when "Boy Muts Family"
The crisis of "Spring Fever,"

"Work—work—work, till the brain begins to swim." Or should it be, "Rehearse—rehearse—rehearse."

With a great deal of work and rehearsing, the senior class, this year, produced two plays. The first was "Galahad Jones," in which a young lad, "Galahad, was an enthused admirer of King Arthur. Trying to be a knight, Galahan found himself on unfriendly terms with a gangster, Olaf Jensen. The development and climax of this feud formed the plot of the comedy.

College commencement was partrayed by the second play. A biological student, Howard Brant, was not to graduate because of a theme. However, his aunt, Maude Corey, came and paved the way for his graduation.

These two performances provided the seniors with remembrances of their senior year and a mature outlook on the world of today.

Student Council

The Student Council, being the governing body of the High School is composed of two students from each room, who elect the officers to govern the council. The council trains its members to analyze problems arising in the school. The body meets once every two weeks, regularly, and any special meeting that may be called at the request of some student or sponsor.

The Student Council is urged to realize the power in its hands and how to use that power most intelligently. They have supervised various phases of student life throughout the school term. One of the first things the Student Council acted upon, was to station hall monitors throughout the High School. Working with the other two councils, they helped sponsor several dances. The Student Council also kept things orderly in the cafeteria when the students visited here from other schools during the Music Festival. Putting over several clean-up drives, they have tried to keep our school clean. They have also approved several Charters for clubs, which is purely a Student Council duty throughout the School Constitution. All of these activities would not have been a success without the guidance of Miss Van Kirk, the council's advisor

Senior Council

Under the able leadership of its president, Damenic Quattraciocchi, and the capable guidance of its sponsor, Mrs. Elizabeth Bayles, the Senior Council has managed to accomplish several things this year...new rugs were purchased to cover the auditorium floor... pennants were hung for all of the visiting schools during the Music Festival... ushers were provided at this time... two Senior plays were sponsored instead of the usual one... a successful Spring Dance was held... proceeds from the plays and the Spring Dance were donated to the school. For the first time, buses were chartered to carry spectators to games away from home.

Junior Council

The Junior Council is made up of a representative and an alternate from every junior home room. The officers include President, Vice President, Secretary, and Treasurer, who are elected by the class in their sophomore year. They are nominated by petition and then voted upon.

The job of the Junior Council is to manage the business of the junior class. In previous years their most important task was to sponsor, plan and raise money for the prom, but this year that job has been turned over to the Senior and Student Councils with the Junior Council presiding

These pictures must be taken tomorrow! Are those write-ups in? Get your annual today! One dollar will do it. We must sell more annuals! It was a trying year for the rising cost of living also affected annual roles and production. Labor unrest and strikes in the early part of the year forced the staff to double their efforts to achieve their goal

Headed by Elsie Warhol and Tom Kelso, the business staff worked untiringly to secure enough sales to meet expenses. To start the sales compaign, Buddy Teets wrote a skit, given in assembly.

The mill and school were incorporated in this year's annual. Special emphasis were placed on pictures, which, thanks to Benack's, were excellent and in over-abundance.

Tom Bucar, editor, and Marilyn Eggers, assistant editor, largely planned the pictures—what they would be, when they would be taken, and where they would go. There was always the endless task of writing and rewriting materials for the book. Ed Hammett, Wilma Dickson, and Jane Carner did the excellent art work Sports were written by Gilbert Mains and Bill Sacco. Margaret Nutt, Margaret Sovick, Jean Farrell and Joann Christy did the senior pages. Their special joy was to find a student who had no habby, no ambition and no activities! Typist Emma Zeh and Madeline Di Nardo worked long and faithfully, often typing late after school.

DRUM MAJORETTES: Tompkins, D., Defrancesco, N., Lang A. Graham A. Mulen J.

"First whistle, Line up! Second whistle, Drums! Third, Roll-off! Those were instructions heard over and over during formation drill. As a result of constant urging and practice, our band completed one of its most successful seasons.

Some of the intricate maneuvers we performed were such formations as a Bubble Pipe', 'Bel', a double line revolving 17 and also "D", and last but east performed before the public eye, our jinx, the anvil.

Since most of our seasaned veterans of last year's Forensic contests remained with us, we were not only able to build an excellent marching band but also an excellent concert band as well. The annual concert was very successful topped off with Toy Trumpet, a trumpet so o and long Ago, a fantasa for so o clarinet. The two solos were perfect examples of the tatent abounding in the music circles of C. H. S.

We are proud to have such a fine director as Mr Rotilia, who is able to weld these talents tagether so well as to produce an organization as wonderful as our band.

Our majorettes for this year were Doris Tompkins, Audrey Lang, Audrey Graham, and Norma DeFrancisco, with Jackie Mullen as mascot and Bill Siler as drum major.

The Orchestra

Every Thursday, the first period, a group of about forty musically-minded students gathered in the CHS band room. Here they practiced old and new numbers, until they could play them to make them sound as they should. Under the experienced hand of Mr. Rotili, the forty pupils combined their efforts to form a well-balanced archestra. Mr. Rotili's patience was a deciding factor in helping the archestra master the harder musical scores. The most important section, the strings, practiced three days a week—Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday mornings.

The music that the orchestra played was mostly classical—symphonies, finales, concertos. One of the difficult numbers was the "Finale from Symphony Number 4". Favorites from Victor Herbert's music and "Roumanian Fantasy" were two other enjoyables.

The orchestra made several public appearances during the year. They played for assemblies, for the first and second senior play, in the musical concert for concert week. They played the prelude and recessional for Baccalaureate, and accompanied the charuses in "Ballad for Americans" at commencement.

Festival, directed by Dr. Harry Wilson noted composer and director from Columbia University, was held at Clairton High School on December 5, 6 and 7

The charus spent the first day and a half in almost constant practice. Friday, they broadcasted over WEDO for a half hour, at which time a recording was made

Those students representing CHS at the All State Charus feel well repaid for their effort. It is indeed an incentive to greater accomplishment.

Girls' Ensemble

The Girls' Ensemble is composed of twelve junior and senior girls, being chosen for their musical ability. These girls have taken part in the South Western Music Festival and also in the In-And-About Festival. Some of the songs included in its repertoire are "Sweet Day" and "A Farmer's Son So Sweet"

Boys' Chorus

The Boys' Chorus consists of boys who enjoy group singing. They have frequently sung in assembly programs. Some of the best sung songs in their repertoire are "Stouthearted Men" and "Eight Bells". These boys have given real pleasure to all their friends as they listen to their merry songs.

Mixed Chorus

Three times a week the mixed chorus, consisting of forty-nine girls and thirty-two boys, meets in the band room to fuse their voices under the capable direction of Miss Jennie Mae Botdorf

The mixed charus by much hard work with fun intermingled has been able to participate in many activities. They have entertained the student body with several assemblies. During the Christmas season they, together with the other charuses, presented the annual candlelight service. At a special assembly, used as a preview of the Southwestern Chorus Festival, the mixed chorus presented a folk tune "Cindy", and a hymn, "Psalm One Hundred Fifty". Many of the chorus members attended the Southwestern Chorus Festival.

Girls Chorus

Did you maybe have the feeling that the girls' chorus was dull and uninteresting? Yes it is true we have to work—but with that work are included lots of good times. We found that mastication of chewing gum and choral singing do not belong together—Remember?

There was a real thrill in the practice for the Christmas Candle Light Service—the sweetness of the music and beauty of the occasion just did something for us. Frequently, during the year we sang in assembly. Then as a high mark of our achievement, some of our best were selected to sing in the Choral Festival. In all these occasions, Miss Botdorf was a splendid leader.

101—classroom by day, but madhouse come 3:351 Chottiner's emating, Clipper's clawning, Laine's brain-racking over editorials, Gissendanner's gossiping, Phillips' munching on pretzels and potato chips, Buchina's worrying over her Junior Council duties, Miller's attempting to keep peace among his feminine admirers, and Comensky's "Tricks" keep Miss Phillips' head spinning. Any poor cub reporter who might happen to step in 101's door to turn in a late assignment is likely to sit unnoticed for a half hour, and then walk out of the room in a daze

On the surface, this is the scene for five out of the six weeks between issues of the Clairtonian News. But, in reality, the ground work is being done. News is dug up, assignments are given out to reporters, arrangements are made for pictures, people are interviewed, and rough drafts of the pages are drawn. The last week is one of frantic rushing—final rewriting, reading copy, counting inches, setting up dummies, checking galley, writing heads, and finally distributing the finished papers to home rooms. The staff, triumphant but exhausted, takes a few days' rest before beginning the cycle again.

For gossip, work and fun—it's P. O. 101!

Character scholarship leadership, service—these are the qualities that go notice membership to the National Honor Society. This year the Honor Society is sponsored by Miss Maloy, and has twenty-two members.

Under the leadership of president, Thomas Bucar, vice-president, Gretchen Phillips, secretary, Lena Defelice, and treasurer, Grace Pungitore, the organization presented an assembly on January 24. It featured Miss Oiga Rukavina, former CHS graduate, who was a representative to the World Youth Conference held in Switzerland. Her interesting address, "My Impress on of Student Conditions Abroad" was both interesting and helpful.

An etiquette drive, held during February, was a campaign to improve the manners of the students. The first week of the drive concerned school efquette Posters reminding pupils to remove their hats, open doors for faculty members, and keep to the right in the halfs were placed in the corridors. The second week placed emphasis on table manners. Members of the Honor Society were assigned tooms in which to give speeches and demonstrations of correct table efficients. Proper use of utens is position at the table use of the napkin, and dinner conversation were stressed. During the third week, which dealt with street efficients, six questions were written on the blackboard in every room. Some sample questions were. If Who goes down the theatre is effirst? and (2) Who gets off the bus first, the lady or the gentleman?

You must give two study per ods a week for I brary work, one during which you will work on the shelves and the other at the desk." These final words spoken by Miss Nixon are the ones that seal your fate as a librarian, but it is not as bad as all that, in fact—we like t. Marking books putting them on the shelves, preparing them for circulation and fling catalogue cards is not all a librarian does.

At the after school parties, the larger evening parties or an our long Sunday hikes, you would never recognize the soicalled bookworms of the library." They can and do let their long hair down for a swell time with Miss Nixon and the library crowd joining right in.

For two years of work well done as a librarian the reward is a sterling pin in the form of an open book lying across the torch of learning. A hard working Senior that has already earned his pin is given a numeral, bearing the year of his graduation.

Each year Miss Nixon picks from among her Senior librarians one whom she appoints head librarian. This student takes care of the circulation book and several other extra duties. This year Della Rowe has held this position.

Miss Nixon's staff of librarions can boast of a job well done and a record of honesty, capability and dependability.

The Bears lost their first game to a lighter but faster Glassport team. Arnold provided Clairton's only score when he romped 98 yards.

In their first W. P. I. A. L. game, Clairton was eliminated by Monongahela. Behind by six points, the Mon-City team fought to score two touchdowns and a hard-earned victory.

Due to an electric power strike, the McKeesport game was postponed to a bright Saturday afternoon. Clairton lost by four touchdowns.

The first asay game ended in another defeat for the Bears Clairton's line play showed marked improvement but was unable to battle Donora's attack which netted twenty-five points.

Two lightning thrusts, in the first quarter which netted Elwood City two touchdowns, were the only scores of the game.

Their attack functioning better than at any other time during the season, Clairton outplayed, outmaneuvered, and outmanned the Charleroi "Congars", but could not outscore them. The game ended in a scoreless tie.

A dynamic New Castle squad exploded all over the field to gain a 32-0 win over the Bears. The punting of Kovalyak was the outstanding feature of the game.

The Duquesne jinx continues as the Dukes downed Clairton 32-6. The game was marked by long gains through the efforts of Duquesne's passing attack.

Belland—rugged, hard to beat, a bad leg benched him for part of the season

Piplico—a statwart at guard position, proved his worth when switched from guard to tackle where he continued to play a fine game

Webb-spark plug on the squad, a speedy, cool, and "heady" player, a fand lover of the game

Glenn a "heady" and capable ball handler. His services early in the campaign might have meant a different season

Manns—coptain, tough, capable and reliable, vated all valley conference tackle, on injured leg hindered his play for the early part of season and handicapped his chances for greater laurels

Graves—played on important role in his substitutions, capable, reliable, valuable insurance to the team

Jatras light and speedy, a thorn in the side of the apposition—out major part of campaign due to injuries

Guenther only one thing he likes better than football and that's ice cream. A hard worker, constant, methodical, reliable

His terrific drive made him a valuable asset in games in which he saw service. Type of player that is trying all the time. Valuable in practice for his impersonation of stars on other teams. Would have been regular, but missed a season of play and experience

Ronald Weinstein

A first year senior regular. Developed faster in one year than any cager in C.H.S. Valuable as front mon an taps. Also tough an offensive rebounds because of his 6'2" height

Nathaniel Robinson

Three year squad member. His size kept him off varsity squad, but was a 'slick' passer and shot in practice Proved that size isn't necessary to be a smart ball player

Domenic Quattrociocchi

Captain of team, started all offensive maneuvers against man-for-man and zone defenses. Very tough defensively, especially on rebound work. Also good scare ranking third with 140 points

Rudy Jones

Three year squad member who did not get into many games, but who helped in sharpening up the vorsity for their important games. Developed too late physically to make 1st team

Sum Ross

The 'sixth' regular who played every position well Started some games and played great bail, especially against North Catholic. Good ball handler—tough rebound man

Ray King

A reserve who saw much action. Would have seen more, but came out his lost year. Good left hand shot

Basketball

In the season's first game, the Bears disposed of a scrappy Glassport team with little difficulty. One week later, the Bears defeated the highly touted McKeesport Tigers in a thrilling game. After three closely contested quarters Clairton pulled away from their old rivals in the final stanza.

The Bears swamped Mon City. Jumping off to an early lead, they were never extended by the up river quinter. In their first league fray, the Bears easily defeated Penn High. After the vars ty had ramped to a 44-29 lead, Coach Soich sent in the second string to finish up the job.

League victory number three came by virtue of a sound thumping handed to Scott High. By setting a fast pace in the initial quarter and keeping it up, the Bears outscored the fast-breaking, rough-fighting Scott quintet. After a defeat on Swissvale floor, our boys climbed back on the victory wagon by defeating Rankin. After moving in high gear throughout the first quarter the Clairton attack dwindled to a standstill in the second period. Rolling again in the final stanzas, the Bears chalked up the fourth win out of five starts in league competition.

In the most thrilling game of the season, the Bears nosed out Turtle Creek in overtime. They came through to squeich Turtle Creek's victory hopes. Yanik was the hero—to lying three field goals in the extra period. The Bears exed out a thrilling triumph over Swissvale to gain revenge for a previous shellacking. Revenge was sweet for the Bears when they thumped Wikinsburg for their eleventh straight win on the home court.

Our track team, this year, was not a champion, but there were a few outstanding individuals. They were weak in the running events, but the field events overbolanced them. There were a few records broken by some of the boys. But Perry and John Kova vax were the only two to qualify for the state meet. Even though the boys knew they were meeting with stiff opposition they always had the fighting spirit. That is what counts.

Over the top. Eager beavers. Pretty Albert.

Our ode to a Grecian sport. He flies through the air The Bears second baseball season closed with a record of five wins and seven losses.

The infield consisted of Quattrociocchi catching, Cochron the leading hitter at third, McGee at short, Uremivich at second with Glenn on first base.

For the reserves, Potts, Horgas, Betts, Jones and Dwyer showed up well.

The pitching was held down by Yanich and Lauderbaugh with Lomand and Torrance doing the relief role

Swimming

The 1947 W. P. I. A. L. swimming championship was awarded to Clairton High School for its undefeated season with Butler, Connellsville, Duquesne and Central Catholic. Clairton also won the W. P. I. A. L. trials and rated as the sixth best swimming team in Pennsylvania at the state championship finals. In his first season as a varsity coach, Paul Frank Lewis developed his swimmers into the strongest squad in Clairton history. The outstanding swimmer on the team was Thomas Wise who served as honorary captain

The annual all-sports banquet was held January 30, 1947 at the high school cafeteria. Highlighting the dinner was an address by Wesley Fesler, former head footbal coach of the University of Pitts-burgh and now at the Ohio State University.

The football team was presented by Coach Wilkinson. The players were honored individually and received their letters.

Mr Bei er served as toastmaster with an initial address by Mr Keller, Chairman of the Athletic Council. The invocation was delivered by Mr. Woodman.

Miss Botdorf provided entertainment with group singing of popular songs.

The dinner was served by Mrs. Davison and her staff

The Girls - Whitelie Issociation

The Girls Athletic Association—better known as the G. A. A. —was formed in 1943 for the sole purpose of promoting girls' sports within the high school. This year the G. A. A. started their activities early by initiating new members. They are chosen by unanimous vote of the old members. The piedgees endured the traditional pigtails, red and green ribbons and socks, and pillow cases for book bags. They appeared without make-up and offered the members a piece of candy from the large bag which each pledgee carried. The initiation ended with a party at the park lodge on December 30.

According to the rules of the association, every friday, each member wore her black sweater with the orange emblem.

Two of the G. A. A. girls, Evelyn Brown and Betty Crooks, were asked to assist Miss Boyer as referees in the junior high basketball tournament.

Activities of the year included roller-skating parties, numerous get-togethers at the park lodge, and a farewell party for the seniors.

Miss Hess, girls' physical education director, is faculty sponsor of the G. A. A.

Girls Promote - Active Program

Gym classes started out with a groan and oodles of sore muscles, as the students of CHS bent here and there using muscles they were not aware existed. One by-word of the first few weeks of school was "Oh my w-e-a-r-y body!" After graduating from valleyball to basketball, the gaing got rough. And more than one skinned knee and bruised elbow resulted. Although a few of the classes numbered in the sixties

Miss Hess still managed to give us that physical activity which is so vital to young people. The annual girls' volleyball tournament, with twenty-four teams competing, ended after heated competition, with the ten captained by Betty Crooks emerging champs! Basketball also is arousing considerable interest, but Gadson's team came out of a thrilling championship game claiming the letters
